Swirling Monsoon Water Sweeping away Houses of Poor People

In a remote rural village of West Midnapore, West Bengal, during the darkest night, heavy monsoon rain with its raging water floods swept Parul's hut away.

As her world collapsed around her 7 months advanced pregnancy, Parul and her 2 malnourished children heard the desperate warning of raising water level around her house.

Struggling against the swirling water and darenly escaping drowning, Parul & her children at last found refuse under the plastic on the district road passed through the village.

But their Problems were just Beginning

Acute diarrhea attacked the children and consequently severe dehydration set up with the prevalence of severe malnutrition and Parul is an advance stage of her pregnancy.

IIMC – Health workers with ORS & ND

Just when it seems that all was lost, help arrived in the form of trained health workers bearing packet with three letters on it ORS (Oral Rehydration Solution) and other packet two letters on it ND (Nutrition Diet) For us magic boxes for acute dehydration and malnutrition.

With each drops of ORS, life seemed to flow back into children's body, their eyes began to sparkle, cheeks began to glow and big smile to their faces.

Emergency is over now the magic touch of 2nd boxes – ND, applied for the children as well for mother Parul, for complete supplementary diet.

After 7 days both the children gained substantial amount of weight, Parul pregnancy seems to be out of any danger, whole family caught the normal flow of life and so life will go on.....

Now please look at those 2 packets, what our health workers are using frequently in an emergency management as well to solve the problem of any form of acute diarrhea malnutrition (40% children in India suffer with malnutrition).

These packets can SPELL the difference between life & death for any child any body suffering from acute dehydration and sure malnutrition.

In IIMC we call magic boxes for the solution of malnutrition (anyform) and dehydration.

You may ask “what magical ingredients create this life saving miracle”.
